Pollutants Within Your Home:

Most people spend the majority of their time inside their home. The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) warns that the air inside your home may be at least 5 times more polluted than outside air. The EPA has listed indoor air quality as one of the top five environmental health risks that we face.

Microscopic mold, mildew, bacteria and viruses linger in the air, leading to allergies, asthma, respiratory disease and infection. These unseen biohazards can live and breed within your air conditioning systems' moist environment, encouraging micro-organisms to breed, multiply and grow. And once airborne, unseen particles can pose a serious health threat to you and your family.

Common Indoor Pollutants Include:

- Pollen
- Mold & Spores
- Bacteria & Viruses
- Dust Mites
- Pet Dander

Even the cleanest home can be a breeding ground for the micro-organisms that may live undetected within your air conditioning system.

Protect your family with a germicidal UV light !
